EXPERIENCE

(2+ YEAR)

Working as: SDE-II, (JavaScript and Java Full-Stack Developer)

As a developer I excel in Java and JavaScript like a master, I led the development of multiple role-based web portals and applications for HealthCare Homebase, a telemedicine company that enables doctors, patients, and mobile care workers to interact to help better patient health. I have improved the performance and quality of various front-end and back-end applications, using better APIs and client applications to enhance the user experience. In addition, I have also collaborated with the Salesforce team to code the product and set up the Salesforce and sandboxes.
